DETAILED ACTION

For clarification purposes, regarding the interview with applicant's representative, Matthew Gryzlo, on December 18, 2006, examiner stated that applicant's proposed amendments appeared to overcome the current prior art reference, i.e. Furnish (US Patent Number 5,788,630), and that further search and or consideration may be necessary.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: In the specification, paragraph 00032, groove 178 is not indicated in the figures. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 17-24 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bookwater et al. (U.S. Patent Number 4,424,724), previously cited by examiner on 892, paper number 20060915.

Bookwater et al. disclose a surgical retractor comprising a clamp, e.g. 20, having an opening with a slot, e.g. 120, having an upper and a lower surface, a latch, e.g. 80, is pivotally connected to the clamp (see column 4, lines 11-28) a spring, e.g. 100, biases the latch, a release button, e.g. 82, disengages the latch, an angularly adjustable leg, e.g. 22, is pivotally coupled to the clamp and can extend cantileveredly away from the clamp (see column 4, lines 60-68 and column 5, lines 1-5), wherein the leg has a retractor blade connector head mount and wherein the leg has a first projection and a second projection forming a U-shape (see figure 1), an operator, e.g. 44, is connected to the leg (see figures 1-4).

With regard to the statement of intended use and other functional statements, they do not impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over Bookwater et al., which is capable of being used as claimed if one so desires to do so. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, the law of anticipation does not require that the reference “teach” what the subject patent teaches, but rather it is only necessary that the claims under attack "read on" something in the reference. Kalman v. Kimberly Clark Corp., 218 USPQ 781 (CCPA 1983). Furthermore, the manner in which a device is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Art Unit: 3733

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 25-28 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 30 and 31 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 17-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
